We believe that children are our future...

Each child has the potential to bring something unique and special to the world. UPCCC helps children to develop their potential by believing in them as capable individuals. We assist them to discover who they are, so they can express their own opinions and nurture their own ideas. We believe in respect, acceptance, and embracing difference and this is at the core of what and how we teach children.

Teach children well and they will lead the way...

UPCCC is a unique community of learners who vary not only in their abilities, but also in their learning styles. As teachers we aspire to give children the tools to cultivate their own knowledge. We teach to each child's needs so they feel capable and successful. We present a curriculum based on the interests of the children and makes learning relevant to life. We incorporate themes, integrated units, projects, group work, individual work, and hands-on learning to promote active learners.

Show children the beauty they possess inside and give them a sense of pride...

UPCCC will provide a caring, safe, and equitable environment where each child can develop and grow. We will allow children to become responsible members of our community by using strategies such as positive guidance, and collaborative practices. We will show children how to be responsible for themselves as well as their own learning, and give them the tools to become successful in life, to believe in themselves, and love themselves.

Let children's laughter remind us how we used to be...

Teaching is a lifelong learning process. As teachers we are constantly learning from our parents, our community, our colleagues, and especially from the children. Children teach us to open our minds and our hearts to the joys, the innocence, and the diversity of ideas in the world. As a result we will never forget how to embrace the new, cherish the old, and laugh with the children.

Together we nurture each individual's sense of Belonging, Being and Becoming
